

NICOLAS AUBAGNAC AND OLIVIER MASMONTEIL EXHIBITED AT THE SCÈNE OUVERTE GALLERY IN PARIS

POSTED IN PRODUCTS ON 13 DECEMBER, 2018

Faithful to her open-minded spirit and insatiable curiosity, Laurence Bonnel reunites in her gallery from January 16th to February 23rd, two rare creators: painter Olivier Masmonteil and interior architect and designer Nicolas Aubagnac.

The exhibition entitled "de la ligne à l'horizon" showcases canvases, lamps and exceptional furniture, creating a new dialogue around the concept of memory, whether historical or aesthetic.

About the Scène Ouverte Gallery

Founded by Laurence Bonnel, the Scène Ouverte Gallery is an exceptional space of one hundred square meters, located on the first floor of the Allénothèque – restaurant of Michelin-starred chef Yannick Alléno and is accessible directly from the restaurant.

Full of elegance and sobriety, Laurence Bonnel is passionate about transmitting her desires and provoking astonishing encounters and artistic discoveries. Arranged as a New York loft, the Scène Ouverte Gallery offers a fluid circulation between the art and the public.
